

Addicts are like drowning men and women. If we don't find some way of keeping our heads above water, we are going to drown. So we look for some kind of power to keep us afloat. We notice some logs floating on the surface. These logs look like they're capable of keeping our heads above water, but when we reach for one of these logs we find that we can only hold on for maybe a day, a week, a month, a year, but at some point, the log fails us as a power and we slip and drown. Logs are best described as "easier softer ways," "middle of the road solutions," and "human aid."

Step One (Part One): Powerlessness: My Log List - my failed strategies for recovery
